An Appalachian Hideaway

By John L. Riffe

For the past several years, I have been fortunate to have a second home in the heart of the Appalachian region. It is a small, rustic cabin nestled in the mountains of West Virginia, surrounded by lush greenery and breathtaking views.

The cabin is a perfect blend of nature and comfort. It features a large fireplace, a cozy bed, and a small kitchenette. The surrounding landscape is a mix of rolling hills, dense forests, and small towns with a rich history.

One of the most beautiful aspects of this hideaway is the view. From the porch, you can see the sun rise over the mountains, casting a golden glow over the landscape. The air is fresh and clean, and the sounds of nature are everywhere.

The cabin is a great place to relax and unwind. It is a perfect spot for a quiet evening with a book or a glass of wine. The surrounding area is also a great place to explore, with many trails and scenic views.

Overall, this Appalachian hideaway is a truly special place. It is a perfect blend of nature and comfort, and it is a great place to relax and unwind. I highly recommend it to anyone looking for a peaceful retreat in the mountains.

Welcome to "An Appalachian Hideaway," a charming 3-bedroom, 2-bath log cabin nestled in the heart of the Carolina Mountains. This perfect mountain retreat offers a serene escape surrounded by nature's beauty. As you approach, you'll be captivated by the cabin's rustic charm and picturesque setting. The cabin boasts a stunning mountain view that can be enjoyed from various vantage points. Step inside, and you'll be greeted by vaulted ceilings that create a sense of openness and warmth. The knotty pine flooring adds a touch of character, complementing the solid wood doors throughout. The main floor features tile flooring, with 10-foot ceilings that enhance the spacious feel of the living areas. A wood-burning stove, set on a large stone slab, provides both ambiance and backup heat for those chilly mountain nights. The stained pine trim adds a cozy finishing touch to the interior. There is a large flatscreen TV with streaming channels for curling up and watching a good movie on those cool evenings. The kitchen offers stainless Kitchen Aid appliances, a beautiful marble countertop, and plenty of wainscoting throughout. Down the hallway, you will find a shared hallway bath and two bedrooms. The first is the primary bedroom complete with Sleep Number mattress. You are sure to dream the night away in this king size bed. There is flatscreen TV as well for falling asleep to your favorite TV show. The other bedroom features two twin beds (trundle style) and a flatscreen TV – a great space for kids. Take the steps downstairs and you will find another bedroom, bath and laundry area. The comfy bedroom offers a queen bed and flatscreen TV. Step outside, and you'll discover the lovingly planned landscaping, including a firepit area perfect for gathering with friends and family. A hot tub awaits, providing a relaxing soak to melt away the cold days and nights, allowing you to bask in the beauty of the surrounding mountains. The porch off the main level offers rocking chairs, a swing and even a gas grill. The location is ideal for outdoor enthusiasts, as the cabin is just 5 minutes away from Railroad Grade Road, Todd, and the New River. Enjoy tubing, kayaking, and fishing in the nearby river, or simply take in the natural wonders of the area. Appalachian State University and Boone is just a short 20-minute drive away from the cabin.
